1-The Project Coordinator opens the meeting asking if there have been any problem at the different schools in this final stage of the project.

Apart from the lack of time, which seems to affect everybody this stage of the project has developed well and no problems have arisen. The final performance has taken most of the time at the different schools.

The teachers have had to prepare:

- *a School presentation,
- *a short video about their places
- *a story related to their places
- *the dance which was given beforehand for the final internacional play
- *the dialogues of the play

A lot of work indeed. Teaches and students worked together with enthusiasm for thjs Final Performance which will surely be a success.

2- The Project has developed according to the activities scheduled at each school. Besides each school coordinator comments they keep doing extra activities to encourage communication such as oral games, theatre , performance, dialogues etc. The number of oral activities done at each school keeps clearly increasing due to the Erasmus Project.

3- The teachers have had to prepare:

- *a School presentation

- *a short video about their places
- *a story related to their places
- *the dance which was given beforehand for the final international play
- *the dialogues of the play

A lot of work indeed. Teachers and students worked together with enthusiasm for this Final Performance which will surely be a success.

4- Then partners discuss the activities to be uploaded for the European page or results, as only the coordinator has Access to it.

The activities selected are:

- *The eGuide, in English and also in some of the partners' languages for further dissemination
- *The script of the Final Performance, in English and also in some of the partners' languages for further dissemination
- *Some of the scripts created for the different activities, in English and also in some of the partners' languages for further dissemination
- *Schools and town/city presentations

5,6- The Meeting Evaluation and the Project Evaluation were done this time via Kahoot, an app which allows to answer in the moment and which allows to see the total of the answers in the moment too.

The evaluation questionnaires for Kahoot had been done previously by the coordinator. The evaluation activity worked very well.

The meeting fulfilled the established objectives: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5
 The meeting fulfilled my personal expectations : 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

7- The next step of the Work Session was to talk about the eGuide. It is already done and the coordinator's School has sent it to a printing press and given some copies to the partners. The coordinators inform the guide has been registered in the Publications Service in Asturias.

8- The final point of the session was to talk about the dissemination activities schools are doing and the impact they are arising.

The project is constantly being disseminated online via the Web Page, the Blog, Facebook and eTwinning.

Besides schools send press reports, TV, visits to the local Radio Station, exhibits students' works at school.

All the school communities are interested in the project and it is working well.

Teachers will have now the complete eGuide to disseminate too.

Having no more things to deal with, the Work Sessions is over at 10,30 on 1 June 2018.
